

Hi, my name is Gabrielle and I am currently a student learning at Durham School of the Arts. I take a class called Digital Design and Animation II which is mainly about 3d modeling and getting familiar with a software called 3ds Max though I am only using Clara.io at the moment. Taking this class has greatly improved my knowledge and understanding of 3d modeling and different techniques used for it. So far I have worked with Photoshop, Illustrator, Adobe, and Clara.io.

I have learned about professionalism, mapping techniques, primitives, lighting, and cameras. This has made it easier for me to identify and state what can be used in the 3d arena. I believe that this knowledge will greatly benefit me in the future.
